A Twelve-laning Struggle Lost by a Bad Decision-Tom Burns's Umpiring Not Popular in New York-Boston's Dirty Play Also Distasteful-Brooklyn Wine Two Cames at Washington, and the Quakers Take Two at Baltimore-Pitteburgh and Cleveland the Other Winners.

There is now little reason to doubt that Cleveland will win the second championship. and the decisive setback that New York gave Boston makes the success of the Forest City men all but certain. The struggle for the next three positions is now very interesting, and Boston, Brooklyn, and Pittsburgh will have to keep alive if they expect to end ahead of Powers's lively men. The New Yorks have shown by their work of the past few weeks that they are able to fight with any team in the League, and with a little more strengthening for next season, will unquestionably be in the race from the start. Yesterday's games resulted: Boston, 4; New York, 3 (first game).

The New Yorks Win and Lose.

The Bostons finished a three-game engagement in this city yesterday and feel thankful that they escaped with one victory. Of the two games played yesterday afternoon the Bostons captured one after a flerce twelve-inning struggle, and in the second the representatives of the Hubwere knocked out in a decisive manner by the heavy batting of the New Yorks at a time when the Bostons were in the lead. All this in spite of the presence of the much-vaunted Kelly, who rendered material assistance in the demoralization of the visitors. There were 3.000 persons present, and they saw two as exciting ball games as were ever played, and also some of the worst umpiring ever put on exhibition. Tom Burns was in his day a clever player and of great assistance to Uncle Anson, but he does not appear to be cut out for an umpire. It is doubtful if any umpire has ever been so harshly treated by a Folo grounds crowd as was Burns. There were greans, howls, and hisses from the time the first game started till the second ended, and Burns was followed off the field by a crowd of angry cranks, who hurled epithets and anything else they could lay their hands upon.

till the second ended, and Burns was followed off the field by a crowd of angry cranks, who hurled epithets and anything else they could lay their hands upon.

Burns's action in sending Bennett to first on balls in the twelfth inning certainly gave Boston the winning run. Four times did Rusie pitch strikes and twice did Burns sing "ball." Then, in the second game, he called Doyle out for leaving third a fraction of a second in advance of the catching of a fly ball, and when Doyle protested Burns ordered him out of the game. Burns certainly gave strong evidence of incompetency Under the captaincy of Mike Kelly, the Bostons gave an exhibition of dirty ball playing. If a fly ball went into the air, instantly two or three Bostonians set up yells calculated to confuse the fielder. When Boyle threw off his mask and started for a foul fly McCarthy yelled: "Run the other way, Jack." Trying to trip base runners, interfering with fielders, and loud vulgar coaching were some of the minor features of the sort of play encouraged by Kelly. Notwithstanding all their tricky work, the Bostons got considerably the worst of the encounter.

In the first game Rusie pitched magnificently. Knowless made an inexcusably bad throw to first in the seventh that yielded two runs. The New Yorks secred two runs in the first on Burke's single, Lyons's base on balls, Doyle's sacrifice. The Boston's did not score till the seventh, when Tucker was brushed by a pitched ball and went to first, in and got another in the second on McMahon's triple and Itusie's sacrifice. The Boston's did not score till the seventh, when Tucker was brushed by a pitched ball and went to first, letting Tucker home and Long to second. McCarthy then hit for two bases, Long scoring. Duffy struckout. The Boston's tied the acore in the ninth on Tucker's scratch hit, a pasced ball, and Doyle's low throw to the plate. In the twelfth Long started with a single and more dear and as no one else was at the plate. In the second game the Bostons had everything their own way till th down too far. and as no one else was at the plate. Long dashed home with the winning run.

In the second game the Bostons had everything their own way till the eighth inning, when the New Yorks fell upon Stivetts and fractured his pitching. Boston had scored one run in the second on Lowe's double and Tucker's single; two more in the third on singles by Long. McCarthy, and Stivetts, a passed ball, and a sacrifice, two in the sixth on bingles by Stivetts and Nash. Lowe's base on balls, and a sacrifice, and one in the sixth on Duffy's base on balls and singles by Kelly and Stivetts.

The New Yorks gat a run in the third on Fuller's triple and Kelly's low throw, one in the fifth on Knowles's base on balls, King's sacrifice, and Fuller's single, and two in the sixth on wild throws by Long and Kelly and singles by Tiernan and Boyle. In the eighth inning Ewing and Tiernan started with singles and Boyle went to first on balls. Then McMahon hit for three bases, sending three runs home. After that King and Burke made doubles, Lyons a single, and Duffy a fumble, the total result being seven runs and the game. It was too dark to play after the eighth. The scores:

TWO VICTORIES FOR BROOKLYN.

TWO VICTORIES FOR BROOKLYN.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 24.—Ward's Wonders regained their laurels lost yesterday by winning two games this afternoon from Danny Richardson's Senatorial aggregation, and did it handily, too. To be sure, the home team was handicapped by the disability of McGuire, as their only catcher, who retired in the second game in favor of O'Hagan, an amateur catcher of this city. But the Brooklyns wanted games badly, and they went at the Senators from the outset with a rush, and kent this work up in the second. There were 1.500 people present, their is a second to the condense of the visitors evoked the heartiest approval from the fair sex, despite their escent's frowns and entrenties.

runs, two of which were earned, while the

until the eighth, when a base hit by Hoy and a triple by Radford, and Dowd's sacrifice fly to invincible up to this inning.

No time was lost in getting away in the secend game, but Brooklyn repeated the previous experiment of winding up the Senators in two unnings. Some very rocky fielding was indulged in by the local men, however, in this game. The score:

LAMPLIGHTER IS THE KING.

MR. LORILLARD'S COLT CONCEDES KINGSTON BEIGHT AND WINS. The Race Was the Second Special and

7,500 Persons Saw It - The Threeyear-old in Front from Start to Finish-Ainx Wine the Holly Handleap in Racehorse Style-Eagle Blid, Transit, Tom Rogers, and Cynosure Take the Other Races-Morello Scized by the Sheriff. Fully 7,500 persons saw Pierre Lorillard's great three-year-old colt Lamplighter give M.

pounds and a sound beating in the Second Special Stakes at Gravesond yesterday after noon, the three-year-old making all the running, and winning with amazing ease. Kingston was his only opponent. The track was fast, but there was no pace in the first part of the journey, and the time, 1:57 4, is, therefore, slow. Still, time is no criterion. The Second Special looked like a great race on paper before Strathmenth, Aloha, Yorkville Belle, and Leonawell were withdrawn. Then, in the estimation of a majority of those present, it was of the jug-handled order, the general opinion being that Kingston would vanlighter being penalized five pounds for winning the First Special a week ago. The old horse warmed up well, and Michael F. Dwyer put on a heavy commission, keeping Kingston's price at a low ebb until Mr. Lorillard's men put their money on the crack three-year-old. Many trainers and form players followed the Lorillard money, so that at post time there wasn't much to choose between the pair. Lamplighter ame out on the track hend and tail up, playing and giving Sims to understand that he would do pretty much as he pleased. Old Buck, the colored man, who has rubbed many a winner at Rancocas, chased the colt half way to the post, where Nolan, the starter's assist ant, took him in hand. Kingston got on his dignity when his near relative appeared upon the scene and refused to break the first time. At the second effort, however, the pair went away on even terms. Simms taking Lamplighter to the front, when Taral evinced a disposition to wait with the favorite. Trainer Huggins had told Simms to run for the first quarter of a mile in 20 seconds and the second in 25 seconds. The pace was slow for the first quarter, the watches stopping at 27 seconds, and Huggins, who was on the lower turn, shouted as the horses

"Go on, Simms, go on."

There was no marked improvement, however, until after the half-mile post was passed in 54 seconds. Then there was a quickening of that long, low, powerful stride, and Taral let out his wrap on Kingston, in order to keep within two lengths of the champion. The old horse was running easily, though, and his backers were confident that the struggle would be short and sharp when the stretch was reached. Rounding into the straight for the run home. Lamplighter seemed to draw away, and a moment later a great shout went up when it was seen that Taral was riding Kingston. Although whipped and spurred, the old horse, whose powers are naturally waning, could not approach Lamplighter, and the best racchorse of the year crossed the line with cars pricked and flag-like tail extended, two lengths before one of the grandest horses the American turf ever saw. Kingston, in the hour of his defeat, must have his due. At eight years old he is comparatively sound after winning a fortune for his owner. As for Lamplighter, Mr. Lorillard was overwhelmed with congratulations on the possession of such a prize. Since passing into John Huggins's hands the colt has won nearly $40,000 worth of stakes, including the Twin City and Bridge Handleap and the First and Second Specials. He looks as well as though the season had but begun. He was indeed a rare bargain at $30,000. This is the fractional time of the race, 0:27, 0:34, 1:19, 1:45, 1:57%.

The Moyne gelding was favorite for the Mount Holly Handleap, the chief event for two-year-olds, and the talent seemed content to take a short price against the speedy, but light-waisted, son of Gleneig. Anax was a strong second choice, while Prince George was the most asked after of the others. The start was good when the flag fell, but Rainbow and Spartan seemed to get all tangled up, and were some distance in the creditable time of 1:15. The Moyne gelding had the lead, closely pressed by Lovelace, Prince George, and Cheswick while Borgen was walting in a good place with Agax Ot "Go on, Simms, go on." There was no marked improvement, how-

Bird, Courtship, Corduroy, and other starters carrying considerable money for the taient. Haleyon got away in front, and setting a clipping pace, was only overhauled in the final stride by Eagle Bird, who won by a head, thanks to Taral's untiring exertions. Chattanooga, at very long odds, was third. Courtship made up a lot of ground from the turn home, but Cordurov displayed no speed and was never dangerous.

Transit greatly outclassed his opponents in the second race, for which he was favorite at odds on, and he won in a gallop, the place going to The Fop, who beat Algoma a nose for second money.

odds on, and he won in a gallop, the place going to The Fop, who beat Algoma a nose for second money.

Lepanto was an even-money favorite for the handicap at one inile and a quarter. Paly's little four-year-old made the running in company with Aloha until the end of the seven furiongs, where the Western horse retired. Lepanto had a two-length lead in the stretch, but Covington brought Tom Rogers up with a determined rush in the final furiong and won a good race by a length. Aloha was a fair third. Tom Rogers carried quite a lot of somebody's money at 10 and 12 to 1.

Diablo and Fred Taral were almost equal choices for the final race at one mile, but Father Bill Daly's Cynosure, ably ridden by Bergen, beat them both, the Withers easi-off winning by a length, while Diablo bet Fred Taral a nose for second money. Had Met affectly sat still his horse would have finished second. Diablo will not run to his form, as his bad leg stings and makes him stop. Pa Daly's friend, the trotting horse man from Brooklyn, was on hand, and hid Cynosure up $500 over his entered price of $700.

Frank Van Ness is in 1857. Mr. Hummel had the colt in the hands of a Sheriff, but he consented to let Jimmy McLaughlin, is nominally in the lands of the Sheriff.

RACING AT LATONIA.

Afternoon Wins the Stake for Twe-year olds-Jockeys Take a Tumble. CINCINNATI, Sept. 24.—The talent were slaughtered at Latonia to-day in the seven races run off. only one favorite winning, the bookmakers reaping a harvest as a consequence by the victories of horses that were outsiders in the betting. The weather was sultry, the attendance 6,000, and the track

In the opening race Lou Dudley fell, and then White Wings, Miss Knott, and Orrick went over her in rapid succession. Jockeys Reagan, Perkinson, Gemoets, and Lowry were heaped in the dust. The horses and all the boys save Perkinson escaped serious injury; the latter unlucky rider, how-ever, was carried to the hospital suffering with a slight concussion of the brain, and, while he will probably recover, it will be some time before he can ride again. This is the time before he can ride again. This is the third time in the last two months that Perkinson has reached a hospital by accidents in races. The Kentucky Central Railrond Stakes for two-venr-olds, at one mile, worth to the winner $1,780, had the limited field of five starters, they being Indigo, 110 (R. Williams); Aurora, 110 (H. Penny; Afternon, 110 (Britton); Dare Vela, 110 (Merrick), and Judge Cardwell, 113 (Goodale). In the betting Afternoon ruled favorite at 6 to 5, while Dare Vela was next in favor at 13 to 5. The two favorites had the race between them. Afternoon winning in the end cleverly by two lengths, solely, however, on account of Britton outriding Merrick, who, owingite his recent sickness, was unable to make a hard finish on the daughter of Longfellow. Indigo was third, beaten three lengths, while Judge Cardwell ran fourth and Aurora last. Time, 1:44%.

The winner, a daughter of Troubadour and the noted race mare Matinée, is one of the most improved fillies in training, and bids fair to prove valuable property to her owner. S. S. Brown, next senson, to-day's victory being her third win thus far at this meeting.

The winners of the purse races were: Out of Sight, ridden by G. Williams, at 5 to 2; Bessie Blsiand, Barrett up, at 15 to 1; Ray S., piloted by H. Penny, at 8 to 1; Cora Taylor. A SUIT OVER KING LEE.

Owner Maddox Wants Possession of His Great Three-year-old.

LOUISVILLE, Sept. 24 .- A suit that will interest turf men was filed in the Law and Equity Court this morning. It is styled James E. Maddox agt. Nicholas Finzer. The bone of contention is the crack colt King Lee. The plaintiff states in his petition that in May last he bought the horse King Lee for $10,000, the defendant. Nicholas Finzer, advancing the purchase money, agreeing to be repaid this sum from the earnings of the colt. Soon after Maddox hought the colt he alleges that Finzer took possession and has held him ever since, denying the plaintiff's claim to him, though he has realized a sum much in excess of the $10,000 advanced. The plaintiff says that he has refused $30,000 for the colt. He prays that he be given immediate possession of the horse, if he cannot for any reason, obtain the horse, he asks $30,000 damages of the defendant, and judgment for all earnings of the horse over and above the $10,000 advanced by Finzer. defendant, Nicholas Finzer, advancing the
